1. The Sponsor is bound by the terms, rules, and regulations set out in this Agreement. Any changes must be made in writing and signed by an authorised officer of the Organiser. The Organiser may make amendments and additions to the rights reserved to the Sponsor under this Agreement, provided that such amendments or additions do not increase the Sponsor's obligations.

2. No sponsorship benefit is delivered until payment has been received in full for all fees agreed in this form. If payment is not made when due, any deposit already paid may be forfeited and the package reallocated by the Organiser.

3. The Sponsor may not assign, sublet or grant licences in respect of any part of the package allotted to it, and may not promote companies that are not confirmed sponsors. Only the products, services and companies named in this Agreement may appear in the Sponsor's materials or stand.

4. In the event of the Sponsor committing an act of bankruptcy, or of a limited company being wound up, this Agreement shall be determined and all monies already paid shall be retained by the Organiser.

5. Where the package includes exhibition space, the Sponsor shall occupy the space allocated to it within the designated access times on the day before the Conference opens. In the event of default, for any reason whatsoever, the Sponsor shall pay the Organiser a further sum in liquidated damages equal to the total charge for the space, and the Organiser shall have the right to deal with such space in any manner it deems appropriate.

6. The Organiser shall have full discretion to determine, in all respects, the allocation and location of exhibition space, branding positions, and recognition opportunities, and shall be entitled, for any reason which, in its sole opinion, is in the general interest of the Conference, to vary the general layout or the location and area of any particular stand, even if already allocated. The Sponsor shall accept such revised allocation in substitution for the space originally allocated.

7. The Sponsor is completely responsible for the cost of restoring to its original condition any part of the venue occupied by it which has been altered or damaged in any way.

8. The Organiser is not responsible for the safety of any property of the Sponsor, nor for its loss, damage or destruction, whether by theft, fire or any other cause. The Organiser is not liable for any loss or damage sustained by the Sponsor due to defects in a building, fire, storm, tempest, lightning, national emergency, war, civil disturbance, explosion, force majeure or any other cause beyond the Organiser's control. Sponsors must obtain insurance cover to the extent available.

9. The Sponsor may not run prize draws, donations or other promotional activity requiring delegates to gather at a particular place and time without prior approval. All promotional plans must first be approved by the Organiser.

10. Under no circumstances shall the Sponsor have any claim for damages of any kind against the Organiser in respect of any loss or damage arising from the prevention, postponement, or abandonment of the Conference, or if the venue becomes wholly or partly unavailable for reasons beyond the Organiser's control. The Organiser shall be entitled to retain all sums paid by the Sponsor, or such part thereof as the Organiser considers necessary. If, in the Organiser's opinion, the Conference can proceed by rearranging or postponing it, or by substituting another hall, building, or other reasonable alternative, this Agreement shall remain binding on both parties. Any modifications, substitutions, or rearrangements relating to the size or position of the exhibition space shall be determined by the Organiser.

11. Where exhibition space is included, the stand must be kept clean, tidy, and orderly and may not be cleared during Conference hours. Dismantling should be permitted only on the final day of the Conference, and a permit must be obtained from the Organiser's office before any items are removed from the venue.

12. Signature of this Agreement and its receipt by the Organiser is deemed conclusive evidence of the Sponsor's agreement to pay the full fees due. This Agreement cannot be cancelled by the applicant. The Sponsor further acknowledges that the Organiser, having incurred expenses as a result of this Agreement, is not required to refund any of the fees agreed in this form, and is entitled to any unpaid amounts that may be owing by the Sponsor.

13. Breach of contract and withdrawal by the Sponsor. Without prejudice to the rights and remedies of the Organiser in respect of any breach of this Agreement on the part of the Sponsor, the Organiser may at its discretion allow the Sponsor to withdraw, subject to the following conditions:

A. The Sponsor must provide written notice to the Organiser expressing the desire to withdraw. If the Organiser approves such withdrawal, it will communicate its decision to the Sponsor in writing.

B. The Organiser's notification constitutes a cancellation of this Agreement, contingent upon the Sponsor making a payment to the Organiser as consideration for release from the contract.

C. The specified payment amount will be set out in the Organiser's notification and will represent a proportion of the sponsorship fee payable under this Agreement, depending on the date the withdrawal notice is received:

> More than four months before the Conference · 50%
> Less than four months before the Conference · 100%

D. Upon the Sponsor's payment of the specified amount (with credit given for all fees already paid), this Agreement shall be cancelled and neither party shall have any further claim against the other.

E. The Organiser will arrange a visa invitation letter to Saudi Arabia if needed, subject to approval by the Saudi authorities and applicable only to confirmed sponsors. If a visa is not granted and the Sponsor subsequently wishes to withdraw, the cancellation charges above apply. Where a government-issued travel warning is in place for the Kingdom and the Sponsor wishes to withdraw, the same cancellation charges apply.

14. The Organiser, its committees, agents and employees shall not be responsible for any errors or omissions in artwork, copy or listings supplied by the Sponsor.

15. Where the Sponsor applies on behalf of other participants, it shall notify the Organiser of each participant by a date not later than the date indicated on this form. The applicant shall be considered the agent of each participant in respect of the powers of dealing with the Organiser, and is responsible for each participant's compliance with these rules and regulations.

16. In the event that any participant is not bound by these rules or regulations, or violates any of its obligations towards the Organiser, the applicant as agent shall be responsible for all losses, financial obligations and costs incurred by the Organiser.

17. The Organiser, its committees, sponsors, agents and employees shall not be liable for any loss, damage or delay resulting from war, civil conflict, military action, strikes or any other circumstance that may prevent the Conference being held at the specified time and location. The Organiser reserves the right to reschedule the Conference to another date or an alternative location. The Organiser shall not be responsible for any discrepancies or misinterpretations by the host country, sponsors, agents or any other party regarding any aspect of the Conference. The Sponsor acknowledges that the Organiser may suffer damages and losses as a result of such circumstances, and hereby waives any claim for compensation.

18. Special attention is drawn to the relevant safety standards that must be strictly observed for any material involving lasers, radioactive substances, materials that may produce harmful fumes, or any other material that may pose a danger to the health or safety of any person. Such materials may not be brought into the venue without prior written approval from the Organiser, and the Sponsor must indemnify the Organiser against any claim or legal action arising from their use or display.

19. A 100% booking fee shall be charged upon receipt of this booking form. Forms received within four months of the Conference shall be invoiced at 100%. No sponsor will be granted access to the venue without full payment having been made to the Organiser's account. Cheques and copies of transfers are not accepted as payment.
